PETITION FOR CANCELLATION

Petitioner Austin Precision Products, Inc., d/b/a LaRue Tactical ("LaRue Tactical"), a Texas corporation having a principal place of business at 850 County Road 177, Leander, Texas 78641, believes that it is being damaged by US Trademark Registration No. 3385512 and hereby petitions to cancel same on the following grounds:

BACKGROUND

1. Upon information and belief, Registrant, Richard E. Swan, an individual having an address of 171 West Street, East Bridgewater, Massachusetts, 02379, is the owner of United States Trademark Registration No. 3385512 for the mark #17 ("Reg. No. 3385512")¹ as applied to "gun mounts for use in attaching optical lens sights, holographic lens sights, laser sights, and night vision devices in the nature of infrared detectors, invisible light projects and scopes, to weapon platforms" in International Class 13. Upon information and belief, Atlantic Research Marketing Systems, Inc. a Massachusetts corporation, having its principal place of business 230

- W. Center Street, West Bridgewater, Massachusetts 02379 ("ARMS") is the exclusive licensee of the Reg. No. 3385512.
- 2. Registrant is also the owner of United States Trademark Registration No. 2322963 for the mark A.R.M.S. in Classes 9 and 13² ("Reg. No. 2322963") and Trademark Application No. 77633803 for the mark A.R.M.S. in Classes 9, 11 and 13³ ("App. No. 77633803"), (collectively the "A.R.M.S. Mark"). Upon information and belief, Atlantic Research Marketing Systems, Inc. a Massachusetts corporation, having its principal place of business 230 W. Center Street, West Bridgewater, Massachusetts 02379 ("ARMS") is the exclusive licensee of Reg. No. 2322963 and App. No 77633803.
- 3. Petitioner and Registrant (including with Registrant's exclusive licensee ARMS) are in the business of manufacturing and marketing gun accessories and gun mounts. Gun mounts allow gun accessories such as flashlights, scopes, lens sights, night vision devices and the like to be attached to a gun via a rail system attached to the top of the gun.
- 4. Petitioner brings this cancellation petition on the grounds that the alleged mark identified in Reg. No. 3385512 fails to function as a mark because it merely identifies a model, style or grade designation that does not serve as an identifier of the source of the goods.

I. "#17" DOES NOT FUNCTION AS A TRADEMARK.

5. The #17 designation identified in Reg. No. 3385512 is used as a model or style designation within a product line and does not function as a trademark. Subject matter used as a model, style or grade designation within a product line that does not identify and distinguish one party's goods from similar goods sold by others does not function as a trademark. In re Dana Corp., 12 USPQ2d 1748 (TTAB 1989) (alphanumeric designations, such as "5-469X," held unregistrable for universal joint couplings; evidence is insufficient to establish distinctiveness and recognition as a mark).

- 6. To determine whether a term is being used as a trademark, the specimen of record, together with any other evidence submitted with the application must be considered. In re Bose Corp., 546 F.2d 893, 192 USPQ 312 (C.C.P.A. 1976); In re Restonic Corp., 189 USPQ 248 (TTAB 1975). A term does not function as a trademark unless it is used in a manner which clearly projects to purchasers a single source of the goods or services. In re Morganroth, 208 USPO 284 (TTAB 1980). TMEP §§1201 et seq. Therefore, not all words, designs, symbols or slogans used in the sale or advertising of goods or services function as trademarks, regardless of the registrant's intent.
- 7. The #17 designation identified in Reg. No. 3385512 is used as a model or style designation within a product line and does not function as a trademark. The initial specimen⁴ filed with the application for Reg. No. 3385512, product packaging for a gun mount, showed the designation "Item #17" on same line and directly following the A.R.M.S. Mark. In the first Office Action dated October 25, 2006 ("First Office Action")⁵, the examining attorney refused registration on the ground that the proposed mark is "merely informational matter and does not function as a trademark... The specimen consists of product packaging, and the proposed mark appears on the specimen adjacent to the term "ITEM" as "Item #17" and in this capacity serves merely to convey informational matter."

- 8. In a final office action dated April 22, 2007 ("Final Office Action")⁷, the examining attorney made the refusal to register final under Trademark Act Sections 1, 2, and 45, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1051, 1052 and 1127, for failure of the designation to function as a trademark as used on the specimen of record. In response to the Final Office Action, Registrant submitted four specimens showing the designation #17 juxtaposed next to or below the A.R.M.S. Mark: (a) Specimen 1⁸, a product catalogue sheet, (b) Specimen 2⁹, a product sheet, (c) Specimen 3¹⁰, a photograph of a product, and (d) Specimen 4¹¹, a photograph of packaging.
- 9. The product catalogue sheet, Specimen 1¹², displays the designations:

- 10. Specimen 2¹³ is a product sheet for Registrant's A.R.M.S. #22M68 throw lever ring product. In a line of text towards the bottom of the product sheet point is the following: "Secured to an A.R.M.S. #17 platform with the A.R.M.S. patented Throw Lever® system guarantees easy on and off repeat zero." In this specimen, the #17 merely serves as a model or part number within the A.R.M.S line of goods and shows that the goods offered under the #17 model numbers work with the Registrant's A.R.M.S.® #22M68 product.
- 11. Specimen 3¹⁴ is a photograph of a product displaying the designation "A.R.M.S.® #17S". In this specimen, the #17 merely serves as a model or part number within the A.R.M.S line of goods.
- 12. Specimen 4¹⁵, is a photograph of product packaging displaying the designation "A.R.M.S.® #17S". In this specimen, the #17 merely serves as a model or part number within the A.R.M.S. line of goods.
- Registrant's gun mount products including products with the A.R.M.S.® #17 designations. Each product listing contains the A.R.M.S. Mark followed by a number designation. Registrant uses such designations to indicate the model number on each of its products. On Page 4¹⁸, after selecting the products with the #17 designation to be ordered, "View Cart/Checkout" is displayed in the upper right hand corner of the page. It shows the model number #17 as the part number for ordering he the products selected. Page 5¹⁹ shows the shopping cart with the #17 designated products that would appear to the consumer during the checkout process and shows that the #17 designation is the model number being ordered by the consumer.

- Exhibit J²⁰ shows pages from a website that markets Registrant's products and allows a 14. consumer to place product orders. In Exhibit J, the #17 designation is clearly a model, style or designation number as witnessed by the SKU #RS-ARMS17 associated with the product. Page 10²¹ shows the shopping cart page in which the ARMS #17 designation is the model number being ordered by the consumer.
- Exhibit K²² shows pages from another website that markets Registrant's products and 15. allows a consumer to place product orders. Pages 1 through 6²³ show the #17 designation is clearly a model or part number for the product. Pages 7 through 12²⁴ are the shopping cart pages that show the #17 designation is the model number being ordered by the consumer.
- Exhibit L²⁵ shows a page from another website that markets Registrant's products and 16. allows a consumer to place product orders. In Exhibit L, the 17 designation is the catalog number ("ARMS17") for the product being ordered by the consumer.
- Exhibit M²⁶ shows pages from yet another website that markets Registrant's products and 17. allows a consumer to place product orders. Page 1 through 6²⁷ show the #17 designation is clearly a model or part number for the product. Page 7²⁸ shows the shopping cart page. The #17 designation indicates the Item Number (model number) being ordered by the consumer.

- 18. Exhibit N²⁹ shows a number of gun accessories and firearm products that include the designation "17" as a model, style or part number. In addition, the examining attorney made of record in the Final Office Action³⁰ a variety of products associated with guns and gun mounts that include numerical designations. As Exhibit N and the specimens made of record by the Office in the Final Office Action clearly show, model designations are common within the firearm industry and are often comprised of numbers, including the number "17". In addition, model designations are often placed alongside trademarks (such as the A.R.M.S. mark) on the packaging or on the goods themselves.
- 19. Based on the specimens³¹ filed by Registrant, evidence shown in the file wrapper³² and webpages made of record herein³³, the designation #17 as shown on the specimens of record indicates a model or style number that allows the ordinary purchaser to order the appropriate part for their needs. The Registrant merely utilizes the #17 designation as a part number that customers use to order the appropriate part and the goods may then be shipped in the packaging bearing the A.R.M.S. mark with the #17 model number label affixed to it. Because of the location and manner of the #17 designation on the packaging and goods, the context in which it is being used including its juxtaposition with the house mark A.R.M.S.®, ordinary purchases would perceive it as a model or style designation and not as a source indicator of Registrant's goods.

II. APPLICANT FAILED TO ESTABLISH SECONDARY SOURCE SIGNIFICANCE

20. Registrant failed to establish that the #17 designation in Reg. No. 3385512 has acquired distinctiveness under Trademark Act Section 2(f). Even if Registrant claims that the #17 designation is used to indicate model numbers and is also used as a trademark, such numbers can only serve the dual purpose of a model or grade designation and a trademark if it is shown that the numeric designation has attained recognition by the public as a source identified in addition to any other function it may perform. In re Dana Corp., 12 USPQ2d 1748 (TTAB 1989); In re Peterson Manufacturing Co., Inc., 229 USPQ 466 (TTAB 1986). Under Section 2 (f), Registrant has the burden of proving that its numerical designations have acquired distinctiveness. In re Hollywood Brands, Inc., 214 F.2d 139, 102 USPQ 294 (CCPA 1954). Registrant must establish such distinctiveness by a preponderance of the evidence. Yamaha Int'l Corp. v. Hoshino Gakki Co., 840 F.2D 1572, 6 USPQ2d 1001 (Fed. Cir. 1988). This evidence may include specific dollar sales under the mark, advertising figures, samples of advertising, consumer or dealer statements of recognition of the mark, and any other evidence that establishes the distinctiveness of the mark as an indicator of source. Furthermore, the ultimate test in determining acquisition of distinctiveness under Trademark Act Section 2 (f) is not Registrant's efforts, but Registrant's success in educating the public to associate the claimed mark with a single source. In re Packaging Specialists, Inc., 221 USPQ 917 (TTAB 1984); Congoleum Corp. v. Armstrong Cork Co., 218 USPQ 528 (TTAB 1983); Bliss & Laughlin Industries Inc., v. Brookstone Co., 209 USPQ 688 (TTAB 1981).

21. Here, Registrant presented no evidence of acquired distinctiveness. In all the specimens of record in the file history of Reg. No. 3385512³⁴, the #17 designation is either shown on the same line and directly following the A.R.M.S.® Mark and/or is shown directly below the A.R.M.S.® Mark. Registrant failed to offer evidence to establish the "#17" designations have acquired distinctiveness or have acquired secondary meaning in the minds of relevant consumers. Since there is no evidence in the record that designation #17 has any secondary meaning apart from its appearance in conjunction with the A.R.M.S.® Mark, Registrant failed to establish that the alleged mark in Reg. No. 3385512 had acquired distinctiveness under Trademark Act Section 2(f)

- Petitioner hereby incorporates by reference Paragraphs 1 through 21 of this Petition as if 22. fully set forth herein.
- Based on the Reg. No. 3385512 file wrapper³⁵, the evidence from web sites on the 23. Internet where Registrant's goods that bear the #17 designation are marketed and sold, Registrant utilizes the #17 designation as a model or part number that customers may use for ordering the appropriate part. Registrant does not use the number #17 in commerce other than in connection with the designation "A.R.M.S.® #17." As a result of the foregoing, under Trademark Act Section 1, 2, and 45, #17 does not serve as a trademark, but rather serves merely as a model, style or grade designation and not as a source indicator of the goods.

See Exhibits E through H.See Exhibit D.

COUNT II

Petitioner hereby incorporates by reference Paragraphs 1 through 23 of this Petition as if 24. fully set forth herein.

Even if Registrant claims the #17 designation is used both as a model number and a 25.

trademark, Registrant provided no evidence of acquired distinctiveness of the #17 designation under Trademark Act Section 2(f). There is no evidence that consumers that buy Registrant's gun mount recognize the numerical designations as source indicators. Therefore, Registrant has not met the burden of proving that its numerical designation #17 has acquired distinctiveness.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner believes that it will be damaged by U.S. Trademark Reg. No. 3385512 and prays that this Petition for Cancellation be sustained in favor of Petitioner, that judgment be entered against Registrant and that U.S. Trademark Reg. No. 3385512 be canceled.

THIS IS A FINAL ACTION

This letter responds to applicant's communication filed on April 6, 2007. The proposed identification of goods appears to be acceptable and is made of record. However, the refusal pursuant to Sections 1, 2 and 45, 15 U.S.C. §§1051, 1052 and 1127 of the Trademark Act is maintained and made FINAL.

Proposed Mark Does Not Function as a Trademark

Registration was refused because the proposed mark, as used on the specimen of record, does not function as a trademark to indicate the source of the identified goods. The examining attorney has considered the applicant's arguments carefully. However, for the reasons set forth below, the refusal is now made FINAL under Trademark Act Sections 1, 2 and 45, 15 U.S.C. §§1051, 1052 and 1127, for failure to function as a trademark as used on the specimen of record.

The specimen of record, along with any other relevant evidence submitted with the application, is reviewed and analyzed in order to determine whether a term is being properly used as a trademark. In re Bose Corp., 546 F.2d 893, 192 USPQ 213 (C.C.P.A. 1976); In re Volvo Cars of North America, 46 USPQ2d 1455 (TTAB 1998). Not all words, designs, symbols or slogans used in the sale or advertising of goods or services function as marks, even if they may have been adopted with the intent to do so.

A designation cannot be registered unless ordinary purchasers would regard it as a source-indicator for the goods. In re Manco, Inc., 24 USPQ2d 1938 (TTAB 1992); TMEP §§1202 et seq. In re Brass-Craft Mfg. Co., 49 USPQ2d 1849 (TTAB 1998), aff'd without opinion, 217 F.3d 855 (Fed. Cir. 1999) (USE WITH PLUMB SHOP SC SERIES GAS VALVE and similar phrases, each in a common geometric carrier, simply conveyed useful information to consumers and did not function as trademarks for metal appliance connectors, regardless of the fact that the proposed marks contained applicant's registered PLUMB SHOP mark); In re Volvo Cars of North America, 46 USPQ2d 1455 (TTAB 1998) (DRIVE SAFELY perceived as an everyday, commonplace safety admonition that did not function as mark); In re Manco, Inc., 24 USPQ2d 1938 (TTAB 1992) (THINK GREEN and design found unregistrable for weatherstripping and paper products, the Board concluding that the wording would be perceived merely as an informational slogan encouraging environmental awareness); TMEP §§1202 et seq.

Matter used as a model, style or grade designation serves only to describe the particular product in terms of its quality, size or type, and does not identify the source of the goods. However, if the matter sought to be registered has come to be perceived by consumers as a source indicator in addition to its other function as a model or grade designation, the term may be registrable as a trademark. In re Petersen Mfg. Co., 229 USPQ 466, 468 (TTAB 1986).

The evidence of record consists of a photographic image of packaging on which the proposed mark, "#17" appears adjacent to the wording ITEM. The literal meaning of the wording "ITEM #17" and the particular manner in which it is depicted on the specimen do not function to convey the source of the goods. Rather, ordinary purchasers, when confronted with this wording and the way in which it is used on the specimen, would regard it simply as a model, style or grade designation and not as a trademark or source-indicator.

Applicant argues that numbers can serve as a trademark indicating origin of the goods, and that the specimen of record clearly identifies the TM symbol adjacent to the mark and demonstrates the applicant's intent to adopt the wording as a trademark. However, as noted above, the fact that applicant may have adopted the designation with the intent to use it as a trademark does not transform the designation into a trademark indicating source or origin. Similarly, the mere addition of the TM symbol at the end of a designation, in and of itself, is also an insufficient indicia of source. The question is whether the mark, as used on the specimen of record, would be perceived by the relevant public as a trademark. In this case, as shown by the attached evidence, model designations are significant features in the firearm industry and are often comprised of numbers. Furthermore, model designations are often placed alongside trademarks on the packaging or on the goods themselves. Thus, absent evidence that the proposed mark would be perceived as a trademark, and given the particular nature of the goods and the mark, the mark's juxtaposition with the term "ITEM", the location and manner of its depiction on the packaging, and the context in which it is being used, ordinary purchasers would perceive it merely as a model, style or grade designation and not as a trademark or source-indicator for the goods.

This refusal will be withdrawn if applicant submits (1) a substitute specimen showing use as a trademark and (2) a statement that "the substitute specimen was in use in commerce at least as early as the application filing date," verified with a notarized affidavit or a signed declaration under 37 C.F.R. §2.20, or (3) evidence establishing that the phrase is promoted in the manner of a trademark. 37 C.F.R. §2.59(a); TMEP §904.09.

Responding to a Final Action

If applicant fails to respond to this final action within six months of the mailing date, the application will be abandoned. 15 U.S.C. §1062(b); 37 C.F.R. §2.65(a). Applicant may respond to this final action by:

- (1) submitting a response that fully satisfies all outstanding requirements, if feasible (37 C.F.R. §2.64(a)); and/or
- (2) filing an appeal to the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, with an appeal fee of $100 per class (37 C.F.R. §§2.6(a)(18) and 2.64(a); TMEP §§715.01 and 1501 et seq.; TBMP Chapter 1200).

In certain circumstances, a petition to the Director may be filed to review a final action that is limited to procedural issues, pursuant to 37 C.F.R. §2.63(b)(2). 37 C.F.R. §2.64(a). See 37 C.F.R. §2.146(b), TMEP §1704, and TBMP Chapter 1201.05 for an explanation of petitionable matter. The petition fee is $100. 37 C.F.R. §2.6(a)(15).

NOTICE OF NEW PROCEDURE FOR E-MAILED OFFICE ACTIONS: In late spring 2007, for any applicant who authorizes e-mail communication with the USPTO, the USPTO will no longer directly e-mail the actual Office action to the applicant. Instead, upon issuance of an Office action, the USPTO will e-mail the applicant a notice with a link/web address to access the Office action using Trademark Document Retrieval (TDR), which is located on the USPTO website at http://portal.uspto.gov/external/portal/tow. The Office action will not be attached to the e-mail notice. Upon receipt of the notice, the applicant can then view and print the actual Office action and any evidentiary attachments using the provided link/web address. TDR is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, including holidays and weekends. This new process is intended to eliminate problems associated with e-mailed Office actions that contain numerous attachments.

HOW TO RESPOND TO THIS OFFICE ACTION:

- ONLINE RESPONSE: You may respond using the Office's Trademark Electronic Application System (TEAS) Response to Office action form available on our website at http://www.uspto.gov/teas/index.html. If the Office action issued via e-mail, you must wait 72 hours after receipt of the Office action to respond via TEAS. NOTE: Do not respond by e-mail. THE USPTO WILL NOT ACCEPT AN E-MAILED RESPONSE.
- REGULAR MAIL RESPONSE: To respond by regular mail, your response should be sent to the mailing return address above, and include the serial number, law office number, and examining attorney's name. NOTE: The filing date of the response will be the date of receipt in the Office, not the postmarked date. To ensure your response is timely, use a certificate of mailing.

37 C.F.R. §2.197.

STATUS OF APPLICATION: To check the status of your application, visit the Office's Trademark Applications and Registrations Retrieval (TARR) system at http://tarr.uspto.gov.

VIEW APPLICATION DOCUMENTS ONLINE: Documents in the electronic file for pending applications can be viewed and downloaded online at http://portal.uspto.gov/external/portal/tow.

Subject: Interarms mod.22 A.T.D

Question

I am working on an Interarms mod. 22 A.T.D I see where someone else asked about this same gun and you say its made by Norinco. Do you know the original model number for this gun? Also do you know where I can find parts for this gun? I've searched Numrich and have found nothing and browning parts are very close but won't interchange. Atleast the outer magazine tube won't and I'm quessing the other parts won't either.

Thanks Alot John Pate

Experience Experience:

I have been involved with firearms since 1976 including many forms of target practice, hunting, self defense, home defense, concealed carry, reloading, and dozens of training classes. I am currently an NRA Life Member and Certified Instructor for Pistol. Reloading, and Range Safety Officer, I am licensed to carry a concealed firearm in over 30 states. I am not a macho paramilitary guy that is going to bark orders at you like a drill sergeant or tell you that there is only one correct answer. Instead I am a down-to-earth working class guy that will patiently educate you on the facts and issues so that you can make your own decisions based on your situation.

My full time job keeps me quite busy however I also provide firearms training to friends and referrals in my spare time. Many people have helped me over the years so I volunteer my time whenever possible to give something back to the community. If you use this site and find it helpful then I encourage you to consider signing up as an expert as well.

The history of the Colt Gov1 / M1911 Pistol began in early 1900s, when farmous designer John M. Browning began to develop semi-automatic pistols for Colt company. In the 1906-1907 U.S. Army announced trials to replace its service revolvers with new, semi-automatic pistol. Army required the new pistol to have the caliber of 45 inch, so Browning designed its own cartridge that fired 230 grains (15.64 gramms) bullet, and then, designed a new pistol. In 1911, after extensive testings, the new pistol and its cartridge, designed by Browning and manufactured by Colt, were adopted for U.S. military service as M1911. Prior to and during World War One, more than one million of these guns were manufactured, mostly by Colt and Springfield Armoury, as well as by Remington-UMC, Burroughs, Savage and some other companies. The rights to manufacture Colt/Browning design were also sold to some foreign countries, such as Norway or Argentine.

In 1926, original design was improved, following the recommendations of the US Army Ordnance Dept. These changes incorporate the following items (see picture above):

- 1. Wider front sight
- 2. Longer hammer spur
- 3. Shorter trigger
- 4. Curved spring housing
- 5. Simplified one panels checkering
- B. Index finger reliefs behind the trigger
- 7. Longer grip-safety spur

The improved design was adopted by US Military as M1911A1 pistol, and served with distinction until the mid-1980s. when it was officially replaced in service with M9 pistol (US-made Beretta 92FS).

The commercial Colts of this design are known as Government models. In 1929, Colt introduced the Government pistol in its new chambering, the .38 Super Automatic, a hotter version of the earlier .38 Automatic cartridge. New pistol had bigger magazine capacity (8 rounds) and sold well on the police market. The .38 Super versions are still manufactured and used mostly as competition guns due to extreme accuracy.

During the 1970 - 1983, Colt manufactured Mk.IV series 70 Government model pistols, which closely resembled original M1811A1s, but with accurized barrel bushings. Since 1983, Cult manufactured Mk.IV Series 80 Government model pistols, that featured added firing pin safety. Latest Colt product, M1991A1, also featured Series 80 slide with firing pin safety.

Colt also developed some more compact versions of its full-size commercial guns. So called "Commander" versions (available as Combat Commanders, Lightweight Commanders with alloy frames etc) have shortened barrels and slides (barrel lenght 108 mm, or 4.25 inch), with the standart size frame and grip, and standart magazine capacity of 7 rounds in 45ACP. These guns were also available in 38 Super and 9mm Luger chamberings. In the year 1972, US Army adopted the M15 General Officers Model Pistol, developed by Rock Island Arsenal, wery similar to Combat. Commander, as a selfdefence weapon for high level army officers. These guns had a brass plate insert in the left grip panel, where the name of the owner should be engraved.

Even more compact version, the Colt Defender, had also the shorter grip that limits magazine capacity to 6 rounds of 45ACP. The barrel of Defender is of 78 mm lenght (3 inch). Commercial Colt Officers' pistols were also very similar to Defenders.

copies of the M1911. Some millions of guns were manufactured in the USA during the VWV2 by numerous companies under US Government contracts, and probably even more were manufactured for commercial sales. Most common M1911 clones are manufactured by. Springfield armoury, Les Baer, Kimber, Wilson, STI, Para Ordnance and many, many others. Also, many M1911-partterned pistols are still custom built for service duty, sport shooting and self defence.

Technically, the M1911 is a recoil operated, locked breech semi-auto pistol. It has single action trigger with frame mounted safety that locks the hammer and the slide. Hammer could be locked either in cocked or in lowered position, allowing the gun to be carried in "cocked and locked" state, with safety on, hammer cocked and round chambered. Additional automated safety incorporated into rear of the grip and locks the action when gun not held in the hand properly. Barrel and slide are interlocked via massive lugs onthe upper part of the barrel, just ahead of the chamber. After the shot is fired, the barrel and the slide go back for the short distance, then rear part of the barrel is lovered by tilting link, and barrel unlocks the slide. The slide goes all the way back, extracting and ejecting spent case and chambering the new round on the way back. When magazine is empty, the magazine follower activates slide stop that locks the slide in the open (rear) position. The gun is fed from the single stack, seven round magazine. The magazine release button is located on the left side of the frame, just behind the triggerguard. The sheme of the M1911A1 is available here (78Kb JPEG image)

Modern Gov't/1911 clones may differ, more or less, from this description: i.e, those guns may have widebody frames that can accept dual stack, high capacity magazines; frames could be made from steel, alluminium alloys or polymer, some could have Double Action or even Double Action Only triggers, ambidextrous satety switches and slide stops etc.

In the end, i must say that this article is very incomplete, since the Colt Gov't / M1911 is probably the most popular pistol in the world. It is known for its reliability, serviceability, simplicity. Custom made M1911s capable of outstanding accuracy, and many of M1911-patterned guns are still in service with different military and law enforcement agencies in the USA.

Star Firearms

Introduction

Finding Your Model Number

Proofs and Dates Star Weapons by Caliber

Finding & Interpreting Star Model Numbers

Model names are all too frequently a source of confusion for Star pistols. Especially for the older pistols, there are just a few tips you need to know to almost always find the correct model of your gun.

Older pistols

First of all, there is simply no such thing as a model SA, or S.A. That is part of the company name, and means "Anonymous Society," (Sociedad Anónima). Kind of like Inc. or Corp. in the US. The right place to find all older Star pistol model numbers is on the butt, as seen in the illustrations below and photo to the right. On the flat plate on the bottom of the gun, just rear of where the magazine is inserted, look for a letter, set of letters or a word. The longer number is your serial number, incidentally.

If there is letter code, the first letter is always what I call the series. Any following letters are modifications to (variants of) the base our. Note that modifications to (variants of) the base gun. Note that most series also have variants that are not differentiated by a letter code change. I know of only some of the definitions; I and N mean a caliber change from the basic version, S means that they are updated to include a magazine safety and K means an aluminum frame. There are others as well, but some have various meanings, such as D where on the PD it seems to mean "small," and on the MD it means "fully-automatic." Very confusing.

Just to add more trouble, some pistols will simply be marked "Super," with no letter codes. These are the Super (linkless, quick-takedown lever) versions of a number of models. I know of the Super designation appearing alone on model A and B pistols, but it can be on others as well. Use caliber and other details of the gun to determine your model if this is the case.

The chart to the right delineates the differences between some of the more confusingly similar pistols, and what I know of some of the suffix codes. Models A and B, for example, are confusingly similar, but are (apparently) differentiated by caliber. Suffix codes are changes to the base gun. Some are not at all clear, but the ones I know are listed here.

Another confusion comes up sometimes in caliber markings being confused with weapon names. Patronen D8 is a way of saying "the cartridges that fit in the model 1908 pistol." The Pistol D8 is the Luger, and more recently the cartridge that fits it is called the 9 mm Luger, or Parabellum. Up thru the 50s at least, a number of Stars in 9 mm had the chamber hoods stamped PD8 or something similar. This is just a caliber notation. The German-Issued Star Pistols were only made from 1942-44, should have the last three digits of the serial on all major components, and may have German Arrny and/or Nazi proofmarks. Identification of this weapons continues to be problematic.

Modern pistols

Newer pistols have a model name or number, sometimes with a type suffix, clearly on the sides of the gun. Any brand names (e.g. "Firestar Plus") are on the slide and any listed model numbers are on the right side of the frame above the grip panels. Some pistols will have no model number listed. The Megastar, for example, is the Model 50, but is [more or less] invariably sold as the "Model Megastar."

All also according of section to the constitution of the constitut

http://209.85.165.104/search?q=cache:6bn9MGczPt0J;star-firearms.com/firearms/numbering.shtml+%22model+number%2 2+and+%22firearms%22&hl=en&ct=clnk&cd=1&gl=us&lr=lang_en 04/22/2007_01:20:37_PM

All the modern pistols have model numbers instead of letters, starting with 28.1 have no idea what happened to the first 27 or to many of the numbers in between. Some are clearly also just chosen for marketing needs, like the .45 ACP caliber Firestar M45. Some also have other apparent meanings. The Firestar Plus is the M243, where adding 200 to the M43 must mean "super version" or something to the Star engineering department. Similarly, the M105 was an alloy predecessor to the M205 plastic framed Ultrastar. Not obvious what they all mean, but they definitely mean something.

Some of the modern pistols also use variant designators. These are much simpler, though. Basically M (Military) means steel, and usually the longer of the two, and P (Police) means alloy, and shorter. These are used on the 28/30/31 series, and are always used. There is no "base" Model 30. Sometimes, these are not used, so the model number for the Firestar Plus has no K suffix, to designate that it is alloy framed.

Once you find the model, you can look up which series it is in and go to the relevant page on the table here.

Importers Marks

I get asked a lot about marks that end up being import marks. Weapons made outside the US must be imported, and stamped with the importer company name and location. I am sure other countries have similar regulations. Import stamps are usually not going to match, many will even be non-straight or will not have been finished over. US importers include Interarms and CAI (I will add others as I recall them). Location can be as little as city and state, or even odd abbreviations; American Arms has always just stamped "NKC" to mean "North Kansas City, Missouri."

The main U.S. importers of new, commercial sale Stars were the Garcia Corp. in Washington, D.C. and Interarms of Alexendria, Virginia. Lately, a few others have started importing used surplus guns, most notably Century Arms; these guns will carry a stamp reading "C.I.A. ST. ALB VI.," often in odd places.

Especially because of the large number of Star pistols imported as surplus, import marks are almost always of no value when trying to identify the gun. If you are trying to buy one, they can be useful, as many people will post the gun for sale as being made by Interarms, and so on.

12087 thru 12088.9 Firearms Safety Devices

ARTICLE 4.5. FIREARMS SAFETY DEVICES

12087. This article shall be known and may be cited as the "Aroner-Scott-Hayden Firearms Safety Act of 1999."

12087.5. The Legislature makes the following findings:

- (a) In the years 1987 to 1996, nearly 2,200 children in the Urited States under the age of 15 years died in unintentional shootings. In 1996 alone, 138 children were shot and killed unintentionally. Thus, more than 11 children every month, or one child every three days, were shot or killed unintentionally in firearms-related incidents.
- (b) The United States leads the industrialized world in the rates of children and youth lost to unintentional, firearms-related deaths.
- A 1997 study from the federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reveals that for unintentional firearm-related deaths for children under the age of 15, the rate in the United States was nine times higher than in 25 other industrialized countries combined.

- (c) While the number of unintentional deaths from firearms is an unacceptable toll on America's children, nearly eight times that number are treated in U.S. hospital emergency rooms each year for nonfatal unintentional gunshot wounds.
- (d) A study of unintentional firearm deaths among children in California found that unintentional gunshot wounds most often involve handguns.
- (e) A study in the December 1995 issue of the Archives of Pediatric and Adolescent Medicine found that children as young as three years old are strong enough to fire most commercially available handguns. The study revealed that 25 percent of three to four year olds and 70 percent of five to six year olds had sufficient finger strength to fire 59 (92 percent) of the 64 commonly available handguns referenced in the study.
- (f) The Government Accounting Office (GAO), in its March 1991 study, "Accidental Shootings: Many Deaths and Injuries Caused by Firearms Could be Prevented," estimates that 31 percent of accidental deaths caused by firearms might be prevented by the addition of two safety devices: a child-resistant safety device that automatically engages and a device that indicates whether the gun is loaded. According to the study results, of the 107 unintentional firearms-related fatalities the GAO examined for the calendar years 1988 and 1989, 8 percent could have been prevented had the firearm been equipped with a child-resistant safety device. This B percent represents instances in which children under the age of six unintentionally shot and killed themselves or other persons.
- (g) Currently, firearms are the only products manufactured in the United Stated that are not subject to minimum safety standards.
- (h) A 1997 public opinion poll conducted by the National Opinion Research Center at the University of Chicago in conjunction with the Johns Hopkins Center for Gun Policy and Research found that 74 percent of Americans support safety regulation of the firearms

12087.6. As used in this article:

- (a) "Firearms safety device" means a device other than a gun safe that locks and is designed to prevent children and unauthorized users from firing a firearm. The device may be installed on a firearm, be incorporated into the design of the firearm, or prevent access to the firearm.

 (b) "Gun safe" means a locking container that fully contains and secures one or more
- firearms, and that meets the standards for gun safes adopted pursuant to Section 12088.2. (c) "Long-gun safe" means a locking container designed to fully contain and secure a rifle as defined in paragraph (20) of subdivision (c) of Section 12020 or a shotgun as defined in paragraph (21) of subdivision (c) of Section 12020, that has a locking system consisting of either a mechanical combination lock or an electronic combination lock that has at least 1,000 possible unique combinations consisting of a minimum of three numbers, letters, or symbols per combination, and that is not listed on the roster maintained pursuant to subdivision (d)

I also have a S&W 686 357 4 in. for the more serious issues. I have a box of winchester 38 spl. +P 125 Gr.JHP that I use sometimes in the 686. My question is could the +P shells be used [limited use] in the 60 as a carry gun. I have a box of Hornady 38 spc1 125 GR. JHP/XTP. Would it be better to use them? Any other suggestions would be welcomed. I don't know the year of this gun but a book I have says they stopped making them in 1996.

Response to Office Action

The table below presents the data as entered.

LAW OFFICE 111

Dear Madam:

This amendment is responsive to the Official Action mailed October 25, 2006. At this time, Applicant respectfully requests that the Examining Attorney reconsider and withdraw the present refusal, and proposes that the instant Mark ("#17") should be passed onto publication for the reasons stated below:

SEARCH OF THE RECORDS

The Examining Attorney has searched the records and found no similar registered or pending mark which would bar registration under Section 2(d).

SECTIONS 1, 2, AND 45 REFUSAL

Registration of the mark was refused because the proposed mark as used on the specimen of record does not function as a trademark.

The Examining Attorney contends that registration for the Mark #17 should be refused because "as used on the specimen of record, [the mark] is merely informational matter and does not function as a trademark." The Examining Attorney also notes that the specimen consists of product packaging, and the Mark #17 appears adjacent to the term ITEM, thus creating a capacity which serves merely to convey informational matter (i.e. that the product is the 17th item). Further, the Examining Attorney notes that a mark is unregisterable "unless ordinary purchasers would regard it as a source-indicator for the goods." In re Manco, Inc., 24 USPQ2d 1938 (TTAB 1992); TMEP §§ 1202 et. seq.

Applicant respectfully disagrees. If numbers are used only to indicate a model number, or function as a similar style/grade identifier, said number is not being used as a trademark. J. Thomas McCarthy, McCarthy on Trademarks and Unfair Competition § 7-16, at 7-22 (4th ed. 2003). However, it should also be noted that such numbers can serve a dual purpose: (1) as style or grade designation; and (2) as a trademark indicating origin of the goods. Id. As the Examining Attorney has highlighted in her Office Action, in order for a rejection to be issued in this type of instance, the mark must solely be used as a model designator. It is possible for a numeric or alphanumeric mark, which functions only in part as a model or grade identifier, to be inherently distinctive, and not require proof of acquired distinctiveness to gain trademark protection. See Eastman Kodak Co. v. Bell & Howell Document Management Prods. Co., 994 F.2d 1569, 26 USPQ2d 1912, 1919 (Fed. Cir. 1993). In fact, the Federal Circuit noted in Eastman Kodak that the "PTO has already granted B&H registration of one numerical (7500)...mark[,] used in connection with microfilm reader/printers, without proof of secondary meaning." See Registration Number 1666502.

In the present situation, the specimen of record clearly identifies the TM symbol adjacent to the mark, and thus affirmatively places the public on notice that the mark (#17) functions as a trademark. Applicant clearly intends that the mark function as a trademark, and ordinary consumers can clearly identify that the designation also functions as a trademark. Withdrawal of the refusal is respectfully solicited.

IDENTIFICATION OF GOODS

The wording of the identification of goods as filed was unacceptable as indefinite. The Applicant has adopted the description as suggested by the Examiner. Withdrawal of the objection is respectfully solicited.

It is respectfully submitted that all of the Examining Attorney's objections have been addressed. In view of the foregoing reasons, the Applicant respectfully requests the Examining Attorney withdraw the refusal and allow the Mark to be published for opposition.

Respectfully Submitted,

/stephen j. holmes/

Response to Office Action

To the Commissioner for Trademarks:

Application serial no. 78886415 has been amended as follows: Argument(s)

In response to the substantive refusal(s), please note the following:

The assigned trademark examining attorney has reviewed the referenced application and has determined the following.

Search Results

The examining attorney has searched the Office records and has found no similar registered or pending mark which would bar registration under Trademark Act Section 2(d), 15 U.S.C. §1052(d). TMEP §704.02.

Registration Refused – Mark Does Not Function as a Trademark

Registration is refused because the proposed mark, as used on the specimen of record, is merely informational matter and does not function as a trademark. Trademark Act Sections 1, 2 and 45, 15 U.S.C. §§1051, 1052 and 1127; In re Brass-Craft Mfg. Co., 49 USPQ2d 1849, 1853 (TTAB 1998), (USE WITH and similar phrases sought to be registered, used with the registered mark PLUMB SHOP, conveyed merely informational material to consumers and did not function as a trademark for metal appliance connectors); In re Volvo Cars of North America, 46 USPQ2d 1455 (TTAB 1998) (the primary significance of DRIVE SAFELY, as used by the applicant, would be perceived as an everyday, commonplace safety admonition that did not function as a mark); In re Manco, Inc., 24 USPQ2d 1938 (TTAB 1992) (THINK GREEN and design, as used in connection with weather stripping and paper products, found unregistrable as it would be perceived as merely an informational slogan encouraging environmental awareness); TMEP §1202.04.

The specimen consists of product packaging, and the proposed mark appears on the specimen adjacent to the term "ITEM" as "Item #17" and in this capacity serves merely to convey informational matter, i.e., that the product is the 17th item. Ordinary purchasers would not regard this designation as a trademark or an indication of source.

The specimen of record, along with any other relevant evidence submitted with the application, is reviewed and analyzed in order to determine whether a term is being properly used as a trademark. In re Bose Corp., 546 F.2d 893, 192 USPQ 213 (C.C.P.A. 1976); In re Volvo Cars of North America, 46 USPQ2d 1455 (TTAB 1998). Not all words, designs, symbols or slogans used in the sale or advertising of goods or services function as marks, even if they may have been adopted with the intent to do so. A designation cannot be registered unless ordinary purchasers would regard it as a source-indicator for the goods. In re Manco, Inc., 24 USPQ2d 1938 (TTAB 1992); TMEP §§1202 et seq.

This refusal will be withdrawn if applicant submits both (1) a substitute specimen showing use as a trademark, and (2) a statement that "the substitute specimen was in use in commerce at least as early as the application filing date," verified with a notarized affidavit or a signed declaration under 37 C.F.R. §2.20. 37 C.F.R. §2.59(a); TMEP §904.09.

The following is a sample declaration under 37 C.F.R. §2.20 with a supporting statement for a substitute specimen:

The undersigned being warned that willful false statements and the like are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under 18 U.S.C. §1001, and that such willful false statements and the like may jeopardize the validity of the application or document or any registration resulting there from, declares that the substitute specimen was in use in commerce at least as early as the filing date of the application; all statements made of his/her own knowledge are true; and all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true.

Identification of Goods

The wording in the identification of goods is unacceptable as indefinite because it fails to indicate, with greater specificity, the particular type of goods being provided by the applicant. Specifically, the term "mounts," standing alone, is indefinite. Applicant must amend the identification to further clarify the nature of the indicated goods. The applicant may amend this wording to the following, if accurate. TMEP §1402.01.

Gun mounts for use in attaching optical lens sights, holographic lens sights, laser sights, and night vision devices in the nature of infrared detectors, invisible light projectors and scopes, to weapon platforms, in International Class 13.

For assistance with identifying goods and/or services in trademark applications, please see the online searchable Manual of Acceptable Identifications of Goods and Services at http://tess2.uspto.gov/netahtml/tidm.html.

Please note that, while the identification of goods and/or services may be amended to clarify or limit the goods and/or services, adding to the goods and/or services or broadening the scope of the goods and/or services is not permitted. 37 C.F.R. §2.71(a); TMEP §1402.06. Therefore, applicant may not amend the identification to include goods and/or services that are not within the scope of the goods and/or services set forth in the present identification.

If the applicant has any questions or needs assistance in responding to this Office action, please telephone the assigned examining attorney.
